Organized By
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
Ravenshaw University
Cuttack-753003, Odisha

Distinguished Topics

- ❖ Polymer as smart material
- ❖ The fluorescence behaviour of complexes
- ❖ Molecular architectures for sensing, storage and catalysis
- ❖ Organic and Metal-Organic Hybrids Materials
- ❖ Nano Materials
- ❖ Drug Design
- ❖ Plasma Chemistry
- ❖ Theoretical Chemistry
- ❖ NMR and Single crystal technique

Resource Persons

We are delighted to have our distinguished eminent scientists resource person to encourage the gathering with their knowledge and experience.

Ravenshaw University

Ravenshaw University (earlier Ravenshaw College) is a co-educational state university situated in Cuttack, Odisha, on the east coast of India. The College with all its glorious academic achievement and ceaseless scholastic pursuits had already created a distinct niche for itself in India and beyond. The history of this great institution is, the history of modern Orissa. It was the cradle of ideas fostering national unity and nationalism, promoting social mobilization and gearing up the freedom struggle. Considering its great heritage, the Institution has been awarded National Honour by the Government of India through the issue of a commemorative stamp in 1978. Not only is this Institution an epitome of learning but also a piece of unique Victorian architecture in the country.

Department of Chemistry

The department of Chemistry was established in the year of 1906. Over the years, a number of renowned and illustrious figures have been associated with the department as the faculty and as students. Based on the training and expertise of the faculty, the chemistry department steadily developing as a centre for higher learning for quality research work leading in wide range of fields i.e. from traditional physical, inorganic, organic chemistry to new frontiers of chemical biology, materials science and catalysis, nanoscience, medicine and environmental chemistry.

Aim of the Workshop

The aim of the workshop is to introduce recent techniques and challenges in the advanced areas of material chemistry in teaching and research activities to students at the level of Masters/ Research students and Professors. The Lecture workshop will provide a common platform for the interaction of the young students and professors with the galaxy of learned academicians from the leading institutions of India.

About the Academies

The three National Science Academies: Indian Academy of Sciences (Bangalore), Indian National Science Academy (New Delhi), The National Academy of Sciences India (Allahabad) Sponsors two Day Lectures on "Frontiers in Material Sciences" Which will be held on January 06-07, 2017 at Ravenshaw University, Cuttack-753003.

Indian Academy of Sciences (Bangalore)

The Academy was found in 1934 by Sir C.V. Raman, Nobel Laureate. Its objectives include promoting the progress and upholding the cause of science, both in pure and applied branches. Major activities include publication of scientific journals and special volumes, organizing scientific talent, improvement of Science education and take up other issues of concern to the scientific community.

Indian National Science Academy (New Delhi)

The Indian National Science Academy was established in January 1935 with the object of promoting science in India and harnessing scientific knowledge for the cause of humanity and national welfare. The important task of the Academy is to publish journals, organizing scientific discussions and bring out proceedings and monographs.
